Shangri-Las Fijian Resort
Yanuca Island, Sigatoka, Fiji

The resort stretches along two sides of the small island with the main restaurant dividing the two main sections. The Lagoon side is the busiest section with a large family swimming pool, activities centre and has a placid sandy beach good for swimming and snorkelling. The Ocean side has a picturesque beach although not so good for swimming and is much quieter with two swimming pools, an infinity pool for families and an adults only pool with bar and fine dining restaurant.

The majority of rooms are located in four 3-storey hotel blocks about 50 metres back from the beach facing the ocean or lagoon. All rooms are air-conditioned with ceiling fans. The resort is divided into three distinct areas, each with its own swimming pool- one of these is dedicated to couples only whilst two are for families, the lagoon rooms being at the heart of the action and the ocean rooms being more secluded.

Family rooms consist of a queen size bed and two single beds with an optional roll-away bed for the third child.

There's a fun 9-hole golf course, games arcade, all day kids club, large games room with arcade style coin machine games, baby sitting and every conceivable water activity on island including deep water game fishing, parasailing and jet ski rides. The lagoon has a deep sandy bottom ideal for swimming and there are daily excursions to the outer reef for snorkelling and coral viewing. For those getting married, there's a gorgeous chapel in a secluded spot on the island (the wedding package includes a standard photographer at the chapel and lovely beach locations for receptions and beach weddings. Unfortunately the wedding co-ordinators are not very helpful and won't make you feel special on the day. It's quite likely another wedding will take place before or after yours, eliminating that special feeling.
With four restaurants and six bars, the evenings are just as exciting -
